I have a problem forgetting just how long my nose is and that there is not in fact a muzzle at the end of my face.
 (I like how a lot of people think otherkin are a tumblr fad like it's totally impossible that this could have been what we were before tumblr)

My New Years Resolutions

- Learn more about ear pointing
- Destroy humanity from the inside
- Either evolve into something vaguely resembling but very different from "human", or die due to the nature of the destroying, or possibly the former facilitated by the latter
- Play in the growing forests and help nature reclaim the crumbling vacant cities and be friends with all the foxes and moose and skunks and opossums
